2011 Annual Report

Executive Director Report

Although 2011 was punctuated with Tropical Storm Irene, followed by rain every other day throughout the fall, the season up to that point was going along very well. Our large events were full, the weather was cooperative, and despite a few falls, there were no major injuries.

Our first ever Hunter Derby held in conjunction with the August Hunter Jumper show was a success and many spectators enjoyed a Luau while watching. We are sure this event will be even bigger next year based on all the positive feedback we received. The Team Jumper Challenge, in its third year, was well attended and once again the weather held, leaving lots of folks watching the jumping and having lobsters and fresh corn.

GMHA continues to work closely with two non-profits, the Susan G. Komen Foundation and High Horses Therapeutic Riding Program. In July, we held a benefit show in conjunction with High Horses, and the Ride for the Cure pleasure trail ride was held again in October. Both events brought some new faces to GMHA and were a win-win for all those involved. The Ride for the Cure raised over $60,000 for breast cancer research.

With our Trail Coordinator retiring this year, we had some staff changes which required a good deal of on the job training. Learning as you go here at GMHA is something that we have all had to do, but when you're in the midst of running events, it can be challenging. Ellen Tully, who doubles as our book-keeper, and Cyndy Kozara, who also manages our trail easement program have divided up trail related duties. They have become proficient in managing trail rides, trail maintenance, and communication with land owners, trail stewards, and land ambassadors.

Also new for the 2011 season was our Office Manager, Robin O'Farrell. Starting in March, just before things went into full swing, I worried about her reaction to the ferocious pace managing phones constantly ringing, assigning intern schedules, visitor requests, overseeing and ordering supplies and office equipment, to say nothing of the weekly demands of backing up our event managers. She not only helped us get through each week successfully, she implemented new efficiencies and organizational improvements that helped to reduce costs at the same time.

The Cross County Upgrade Project, which began as a new idea early in 2011, is nearing completion. New footing, improved tracks, and drainage in key places will help provide safer, dryer and firmer tracks for all our members using our grounds, fields and trails. In addition, a host of new portable jumps and several new jump complexes will be ready to welcome eventers and other riders in 2012. The new course work will allow us to add an intermediate division to our August Horse trials next year. Hats off to the committee (Jen Eddy, Susan Merle-Smith, Janine McClain, Jamie Fields, Laurie Hudson, and Jane Hamlin) who have worked diligently to both fundraise and plan this project.

We succeeded in meeting our goals for 2011 which haven't changed much from last year. What does change annually are some of the ways we reach those goals.

1. Present a positive first impression to all visitors

For 2011, we installed a new fence along our main parking area, purchased a new sign and plantings along with new flags, and purchased a new tractor which has increased our productivity on grounds work. We expanded our commitment to increased safety by implementing our new helmet policy, and clearing warm up areas of riders as they were being serviced by our grounds staff.

2. Successfully complete a well run, efficient show season

Our large events were full to overflowing, consistent with recent years. We instituted an online survey tool to obtain competitor feedback following each event which replaced our hard copy forms. Over 536 competitors responded and 94% of those completing the form indicated a good or very good rating.

Staff met to identify new ways to reach out to recruit more volunteers which resulted in our business volunteer program and new recruits from nearby colleges. We are in the process of using our new online survey tool to reach out to our volunteers and get their feedback.

To help encourage participation in our well known Junior Horsemanship Clinic, we had a grant from the Chichester Foundation that supported many youth attending the clinic. The grant also provided scholarships to working students and several competition scholarships. To support our hard working staff through the busy season, we made it possible to have some regular days off that allowed for welcomed breaks.

3. Increase our fiscal stability

Our annual fund fell slightly short of our goal for the year but we managed to hold expenses and would have ended the year within our proposed budget had it not been for tropical storm Irene. After the storm hit, we quickly shifted gears into major fundraising efforts and managing the re-construction work. We also had three volunteer work days with over 80 people helping us clean up. With the tremendous outpouring of support from so many, we have ended the year with a strong cash position that will be required to fund the clean up work. Thanks to all who have helped.

For the third year in a row, we have gained 200 new members bringing our total of individual and family members to nearly 1200. Our business memberships have also grown resulting in a total nearing 50. During this year, we have applied for 13 grants and have received 6 totaling $46,000. We also re-established GMHA's planned giving program, which resulted in the creation of our Silver Stirrup Legacy Society. This allows us to formally recognize individuals who have made legacy gifts in the form of trusts or other financial vehicles. We will be promoting this program in the future to help grow our financial investments.

4. Increase access to and use of trails

Increasing access to and use of trails was the focus of many hours of hard work by our staff, board members, volunteers and landowners. The completion of the East Hill conservation and easement project (70 acres of land conserved at the corner of Morgan Hill and Route 106) was the biggest, most impactful project of the year, and in addition, we secured 4 new easements and began negotiations on 8 more. Our process for maintaining trails is well organized and thanks to our volunteers and others, we have kept most trails clear and safe for our members throughout a challenging year.

It is so clear to me just how important all our membership support has been this year. On behalf of the board and staff, thank you for your generous gifts, hard work and patience. I'm looking forward to seeing you next season, and as always, stop in to say hi if you can.

– Marty Hunt

Scholarship Funds

GMHA is proud to say that scholarship funds were awarded to 23 young riders in four separate programs in 2011.

GMHA was very pleased to receive a grant from the Chichester DuPont Foundation for the continuation of our youth programs for our 2011 season. This money funded our Junior Horsemanship Clinic, Competition, and Working Student Scholarship Programs.

The Junior Horsemanship Clinic Scholarships were awarded to 13 riders in financial need, for a total of over $8,500. Because of this scholarship money, these students were able to attend the Junior Horsemanship Clinic with their horses.

Five riders received Competition Scholarships from GMHA. These young riders used their awards in order to enter GMHA's competitions, giving them valuable experiences with their horses. Two working students gained valuable work experience spending the summer performing a variety of duties.

The Eileen Wilmot Scholarship, sponsored by Birch Hill Farm, was awarded to the top placing juniors or young riders in the Preliminary division at the August Horse Trials. Three riders- Lauren Mair, Jennifer Lyford, and Michael Hannaman- received a total of $1500 to continue their equestrian pursuits with lessons or clinics.

Reduce Your Taxes with a Year-end Planned Gift!

This spring, GMHA introduced its planned giving initiative, joining a multitude of non-profits seeking ways to assure long-term financial stability. For this reason, we are reminding our members of an important incentive for charitable giving, which will end on December 31, 2011.

Last December, Congress extended the Charitable IRA provision as part of the Tax Relief, Unemployment Insurance Reauthorization and Job Creation Act of 2010, allowing distributions to be transferred tax-free from IRAs to charities through 2011. The provision provides an exclusion from gross income for certain distributions of up to $100,000 from a traditional individual retirement account (IRA), which would otherwise be included in income.

If you own an IRA, you can now arrange through your plan provider a withdrawal from your IRA to one or more charities up to $100,000. This type of transfer does not count as an income tax deduction for federal income tax; however, the law enables you to satisfy your minimum required distribution through benefiting qualified charities, like GMHA.

To take advantage of the new law, you must be 70 ½ or older when the transfer is made, and the gift must be made from an IRA; no other retirement plans qualify, such as 401(k), 403(b) or SEP (Simplified Employee Pension) accounts. IRA rollover transfers are not available for planned gifts such as charitable remainder trusts or gift annuities. Your gift must come to GMHA outright. The administrator of your IRA plan can provide you with a special form to make this request and will send the actual distribution to us.

Act now, if you haven't already, and discuss this source of tax-advantaged funds with your financial and tax advisors. It's a great way to support GMHA and makes good financial sense for you!

Note: IRA administrators do not always include the donor's name on distribution checks. We ask that you send GMHA a copy of your letter of instruction from you to your plan provider or in some other way notify GMHA in advance so that we will be able to identify your gift. Thank you!
